Impact on Careers

If you are found to be responsible for carrying out (or negligently failing to prevent) any type of fraud the impact on your career at the BBC could be profound.

End of a promising career?

The BBC will seek the severest penalties for those who carry out fraud regardless of whether it was thought to be a "one-off", "victimless crime" or "the done thing".

Promising careers may be cut short (e.g. if you have responsibility for an area and fail to carry out reasonable controls that may have identified a fraud you may be held to account)

Media coverage may result in calls for senior resignations
