CUMBRIA
CONSTABULARY
SAFER STRONGER CUMBRIA

NOT PROTECTIVELY MARKED

Officers are now working to establish exact timings of shootings and piecing together the precise sequence of events and Mr Bird's movements in the run up to and during the incidents.

Our priority is now on formally identifying the people who have died, informing family members and supporting them alongside those who are injured. Helping and supporting the many families effected by this tragedy as of the utmost importance to us so we have committed more than thirty Family Liaison Officers who will be dedicated to the victims and their close relatives.

The focus of the 100 strong squad of detectives investigating the incident is firmly on finding out why someone would want to take so many lives in such a short space of time. Officers and staff are conducting forensic evidential searches and tests across the area at each location.

Information from the public and witnesses will be vital to our full and thorough investigation so officers are appealing for anyone who thinks they may have seen or heard anything which could help them with their enquiries to call them on the Police Helpline number: 0800 096 0095.
