8th April 2009

Dear Robert,

I wanted to write to you in my first week as Chairman of the Press Complaints Commission to introduce myself and say that I will be paying particularly close attention to the issues facing the regional press during my chairmanship.

I am very keen to hear a wide range of views about the PCC, as well develop my understanding about the challenges that the industry is currently facing. Before I make any major public statements, I will therefore be spending as much time as possible out of London, listening to people in the industry and to those who use our service. I would hope to meet you on one of these visits, which are currently being arranged.

In the meantime, please do feel free to contact me at the PCC any time.

With kind regards.
