Dear Tim

You are of course entitled to express your views on my Right of Reply and Press Standards Bill and, indeed, to be critical of it in defence of the Press Complaints Commission.

But I wonder why you felt it necessary to write a letter to the Shropshire Star and why you felt it appropriate to question, in rather tabloid terms, my right to raise what is after all an important issue for rather more members of the public than you imagine.

Yours sincerely
