In case you haven't heard, David Cameron will be visiting MEN Media's offices this afternoon, at around 3pm. His office called ydy and asked if they'd like him to drop in while on his day-trip to the North West. They also provided the MEN with an exclusive this morning on the planned Govt clampdown on benefits cheats.

With David and Maria on holiday, Cameron and his entourage will be met by managing editor Eamonn O'Neal and assistant editor Ian Wood, who are well used to this sort of visit.
