

Press Complaints Commission - Complaints Officer

The PCC is recruiting an articulate individual to handle complaints about the editorial content of newspapers and magazines and their websites.

No particular previous experience is required as training will be provided. However, as the job will include writing draft rulings, the successful candidate will write cogently and intelligently, having achieved at least a 2:1 in their degree (or having been educated to an equivalent standard). To maintain its independence, the PCC does not generally employ journalists.

Applications setting out why you would like the job and why you are suitable - which should be received by 9th July and be accompanied by a CV - may be sent by email to recruitment@pcc.org.uk or to William Gore, Press Complaints Commission, Halton House, 20/23 Holborn, London, EC1N 2JD. The PCC offers a competitive salary package, including benefits.
